Update from Thames Water

Thames Water have advised that the reason that some residents are without water this morning is because they have switched off the mains in the local vicinity to carry out emergency works.

Thames Water will update us in due course as to when the water will be switched back on. Please access the Goulden House website for further updates <https://www.gouldenhouse.org>

Thames Water has also advised that all residents to ensure that they turn their taps off, the latter will ensure that no flooding will occur when the water is switched back on.
